2009 SEASON INFORMATION

NICK THEOBALD

2009 THUNDER FOOTBALL SEASON PREVIEW

When the Wheaton College football team opens its 2009 season on September 12 at Bethel University, the Thunder will be looking to continue its tradition of success, particularly during the past decade. Wheaton has won a league-best five CCIW Championships since 2000, with five NCAA Division III Playoff appearances. The Thunder posted an 11-3 overall record in 2008, with the program's first-ever NCAA-III Semifinal appearance and first by a CCIW team since 1988.

Over the past two seasons, two Thunder players have signed NFL contracts. 2008 D3football.com "Defensive Player of the Year" Pete Ittersagen signed with the Jacksonville Jaguars in April. Ittersagen's signing followed the drafting of defensive end Andy Studebaker in 2009. Studebaker is currently on the Kansas City Chiefs' roster.

Looking forward to the 2009 season, head coach Mike Swider notes, "We graduated 28 players last year. That was the largest senior class in our program's history." Swider adds, "The positive of this is that is what we are supposed to be doing – graduating players. The hard part is that you have to replace those kids - not only their leadership on the field, but off of it as well."

"Even though we had a record number of graduates last year, at Wheaton we do not use the word rebuilding. I prefer to say that we are reloading with players that are ready to step in and fill spots for us, and those kids are not freshmen," notes Swider. He adds, "We have a number of returning players with experience who understand Wheaton football and have invested in the program. They have worked hard for the opportunity that is in front of them."

In May, Wheaton hired Joe Davis as offensive coordinator. Davis comes to Wheaton from North Park University where he has spent the last three years as the associate head coach, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

"We are excited about Joe Davis joining our program. He has brought a lot of energy and enthusiasm," Swider notes, "Our offense will be similar to what people have seen in the past. We will still consider ourselves a multiple offense, with a variety of personnel groups and formations."

Wheaton will open the 2009 campaign with an experienced offense that features eight returning starters and a young defense that returns two starters. Swider mentions, "We took the biggest hit defensively, graduating a lot of kids on that side of the ball. However, we have a lot returning starters on offense."

OFFENSE: The offense that Joe Davis inherits will have considerable veteran leadership. "We definitely will have some experienced players on offense," notes Swider.

Quarterback Sean Norris returns for his senior season under center. Norris earned Second Team All-CCIW recognition last season. "Sean is as tough a football player that I have coached," notes Swider. "He is a tremendous leader and his teammates have great respect for him." Norris threw for 3,137 yards as a junior, completing 58% of his passes with a school single-season record 32 touchdown tosses. Swider notes of two sophomores, "Garrett Meador and Daniel Harist will be competing to back up Sean."

At tailback, junior Rocky Gingg returns after a breakthrough sophomore campaign that saw him earn First Team All-CCIW accolades. Gingg averaged 4.6 yards per carry with 15 touchdowns last season. His 1,290 yards last year is the second-highest single-season total in school history. "Rocky is a tough guy. It takes multiple hits to bring him down. He may not get you a 50-yard run, but he will get you a ton of 10 and 20-yard gains." Sophomore Charlie Velling is among a group of players who could see time at tailback. "We are excited about the play of Charlie Velling. He had a great spring," notes Swider. Juniors Drew Johnson and Brady Wright will also be in the mix at the position.

The Thunder will have an open spot at fullback with the graduation of last year's key contributors. Swider mentions, "There will definitely be some competition for the fullback position."

Swider says, "At wide receiver we are led by three experienced kids: Fred Ellis, Danny Hindman and Andy McClain. Ellis and Hindman are returning starters who will bring significant experience." The Thunder mentor adds, "We will have numerous other players competing for time at receiver."

Ellis caught 35 passes as a junior, averaging 16.4 yards per catch, with six touchdown receptions. Hindman caught 36 passes for 349 yards, with a touchdown grab. McClain averaged 17.6 yards per catch on eight receptions last year.

All-Conference tight end Mike Bertucci returns for his senior campaign. Last season Bertucci averaged 15.6 yards on his 16 receptions, including five trips into the end zone. Swider notes, "Mike is an excellent receiver. He is capable of being very productive for a tight end." JJ Clark and Austin Zoerhof will also compete for time as well.

The Thunder will bring back considerable experience on the offensive line this season. "We will have three returning starters," notes Swider.

He adds, "We expect Justin Carpenter, Dan Dipzinski and Nick Biggee to anchor the offensive line. This position requires so many people to be on the same page. Having experienced players, like we do, is critical." Swider concludes, "We have good depth competing for the other spots alongside those three returners."

Biggee, a Thunder junior, will move to center after serving as a starter at guard last year. The 6'5" and 270-pound Carpenter will return as a starter at tackle for his senior season and Dipzinski (6' 2" and 270-pounds) will resume his role as

DEFENSE: On defense, Wheaton returns just two starters. "The defense is where we have the most holes to fill," notes Swider. He adds, "We graduated a lot of kids on that side of the ball."

One of the returning starters is 6' 4", 280-pound defensive tackle Nick Theobald. A Second Team All-CCIW selection last season, he will be expected to anchor the Thunder defensive line this season. "Theobald is going to be a solid force for us up front. We are counting on Theo to anchor our defensive line. He is the strongest player on our football team. We expect him to be an impact player for us." Last year Theobald tallied 37 tackles, including 5-1/2 tackles for loss, with seven quarterback hurries.

Junior Nic O'Neal gained valuable experience on the defensive line last year, recording five tackles for lost yardage. This season he could see increased action. "Nic O'Neal earned some valuable playing time last season and we expect him to contribute this year. He can play inside or outside on our defensive line. He will play an important role on the defensive line for us." Swider notes, "Ryan Dougan, Grant Tallon, Robert Ramsay, Charley Mitchell and Josh Bishop will compete for the remaining spots on the defensive line."

Seniors Steve Lutes and Ryan Hoyt are leading candidates to start at linebacker for the Thunder. Swider mentions, "Lutes and Hoyt are experienced seniors who have shown a lot of leadership. Now we need them to step up on the field." He adds, "They are perfect examples of our model in recent years, that we don't fill spots with freshmen."

"Kyle Notch, Jordan Langs and Corey Hart will be competing with Lutes for time at outside linebacker," notes Swider. He adds, "Mike Dozeman, JD East, Joey Anderson, Jordan Chapman, and Austin Driggers will compete with Hoyt at inside linebacker."

At cornerback, senior Tyler Langs is an experienced veteran who is slated for his third season as a starter. He recorded 79 tackles last year, with 62 solo stops and tied for the team lead with five interceptions, adding seven pass break-ups. Swider says of him, "Tyler is a great player with great instincts. He is an athletic kid who brings a lot of experience as he prepares for his third season as a starter for us."

Swider mentions, "At the other cornerback spot alongside Tyler we have three guys who will compete for that position: Bryan McBroom, Tim Shaw and Buddy

Legens." The Thunder mentor continues, "Brian Hollett comes back with some experience at safety. He saw time in our nickel package and he did a great job for us in the playoffs." Hollett recorded 25 tackles last season, with 17 solo tackles and four pass break-ups. Swider concludes of his defensive backs, "Brian Mullen, Jon Sesso and Brian Leffler will also compete for time at the other safety position."

SPECIAL TEAMS: Sophomore Scott Roche will compete with Tom Aagaard and Dan DeMerchant for the kicker position that had been filled by Tim Ellingsen, an All-CCIW pick last season.

Sean Norris will return to his role as Wheaton's punter this season. Last year, Norris averaged 34.1 yards per punt, with nine kicks inside the 20-yard line. With the use of Norris' foot Wheaton had a net average of 33 yards per punt last season, holding opponents to nearly one yard per return.

With the loss of All-American return man Pete Ittersagen, there are several players who could contribute on kick and punt returns. "Freddy Ellis, Tyler Langs, Teddy Watkins and Drew Johnson are the guys we expect to be in the mix for returns," mentions Swider.

Swider says of the newcomers to the Thunder program this year, "We have 32 players in the incoming freshmen class. This is an excellent class with a lot of depth. It is as good as any group of new athletes that we have ever had here." He adds, "We also have three transfers coming in who are capable of contributing this fall." The veteran head coach concludes, "When you combine this year's class of new players with last year's group, this is the largest amount of players we have brought into the program in back-to-back years."

The 2009 season will mark Mike Swider's 14th as head coach and his 25th as a member of the Wheaton College football coaching staff. Since taking over the program in 1996, Swider has posted a 107-32 record with a 77.0% winning percentage, which ranks him first all-time in both categories among Wheaton's 21 head football coaches. He also holds the seventh-highest winning percentage of any active Division III coach and the 12th-highest winning percentage of any coach in Division III history with 10 or more years of experience. During Swider's tenure as head coach, the program has produced 25 All-Americans and 141 All-Conference players.

In 2008, Swider picked up his 105th career victory to pass Harve Chrouser's school record in a 14-0 win over Trine University on Nov. 22. The Thunder posted an 11-3 record that year as they qualified for the NCAA Division III Playoffs and reached the national semifinals for the first time in team history. Wheaton finished the year ranked No. 4 nationally and the team broke 17 single-season and career records on the season.

In the 2007 season, Swider guided Wheaton to its fourth CCIW Championship in five seasons as he was selected by his peers as the CCIW "Coach of the Year" for the fourth time in his career.

In 2004, Swider led his team to its third consecutive CCIW Championship and NCAA Division III playoffs. The 2004 season also marked the third consecutive year with 10 or more wins as the Thunder finished with a 10-2 record.

In 2003, Swider guided Wheaton to a school-record 12 wins and the program's first-ever appearance in the quarterfinal round of the NCAA Division III Playoffs. Swider was selected as the CCIW Coach of the Year for the second straight year. He also was chosen as the Division III North Region "Coach of the Year" by the American Football Coaches Association and Football Gazette.

Wheaton is 170-59-1 since Swider joined the coaching staff in 1985. He took over the head coaching reins from J.R. Bishop, who coached from 1982-95.

Swider also serves as a motivational speaker to a variety of groups and he is a director for the Bishop-Dullaghan summer football camps. A former quarterback who threw for 1,933 yards and 15 touchdowns in four seasons, Swider graduated from Wheaton in 1977. In 1978, he earned a Master's degree at Indiana University. From 1978-85, he coached at Westminster Schools of Atlanta, a highly-respected college preparatory school. Westminster won the Class AAA State title in 1978 and made the state playoffs in three other seasons while he was there.

Swider and his wife Nancy reside in Wheaton with their three children: Justin, Michael and Hannah.

ABOVE: Mike Swider has been honored as the CCIW "Coach of the Year" four times in his career and was named the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) "North Region Coach of the Year" in 2003.

THE COLLEGE CONFERENCE OF ILLINOIS AND WISCONSIN (CCIW)

FROM THE CCIW OFFICE

With the help and support of our fans, member institutions, administrators, coaches and student-athletes, the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin enters the 2009-10 academic year as its 64th season of competition, 24th for women's sports.

The CCIW, recognized as one of the "Best Small-College Conferences in the Nation," has seen its share of success throughout its time, with 35 NCAA Division III national championships in 11 different sports won by our member schools.

Since the 1991-92 academic year, the CCIW has remained consistent in its membership with eight academically superior institutions, including Augustana, Carthage, Elmhurst, Illinois Wesleyan, Millikin, North Central, North Park and Wheaton. In 2007, Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, located in Terre Haute, Ind., joined the CCIW as an associate member for men's and women's swimming.

The CCIW, which sponsors 21 sports, has carried a long tradition of excellence dating back to its inception in 1946, helping student-athletes grow in their athletic as well as educational experience. The CCIW looks to continue that tradition and remains dedicated to helping our student-athletes towards success.

On behalf of the CCIW and its member schools, we would like to thank you for the support of our athletic teams and hope you enjoy your experience at all CCIW events.

Sincerely,

Chris Martin, Commissioner

THE STORY BEHIND THE "LITTLE BRASS BELL" -- WHEATON VERSUS NORTH CENTRAL

Wheaton's October 24, 2009 football game against North Central will be the 90th meeting between the two schools dating back to 1900. Wheaton leads the overall series with a 51-36-3 all-time record. Since the introduction of the Little Brass Bell in 1946, Wheaton has won 44 of the 59 games played.

According to Legend, "The Bell" first appeared in New York in the early 1800's. In 1839, a New England family headed westward carrying "The Bell" and settled in DuPage County. "The Bell" became part of the political bickering between Naperville and Wheaton over the location of the DuPage County Courthouse.

In 1857, Wheaton began a campaign to assume the leadership of the county and 10 years later officially gained control. However, the city of Naperville refused to turn over the county records to Wheaton.

At 4 AM one July morning, according to the DuPage County Guide, Wheaton struck back with a raid on the Naperville courthouse which netted the records in question. From his home opposite the courthouse, Naperville resident Herom H. Cody awoke to see men carrying off armfuls of documents. Before the Congregational Church bell could sound the alarm, the culprits had fled. The Brass Bell was among the items removed.

At the end of the century, "The Bell" came into the possession of a farmer living between the two cities whose sons both wanted to attend college. It was agreed that the son who won a coin toss could attend North Central, while the other would go to Wheaton.

Shortly afterwards, the father died and in the division of the estate, the brother attending North Central inherited the "Little Brass Bell." So "The Bell" left the political arena to enter the world of campus loyalties.

WHEATON FOOTBALL MINISTRY PARTNERSHIP

2009 marked the 10th consecutive mission trip led by Coach LaVanchy and Coach Peltz. The Wheaton Football Ministry Partnership (WFMP) has continued to grow each year. In 2009 five groups traveled, representing Wheaton in Senegal, South Africa and Botswana.

PREVIOUS TRIPS

In 2000 the first WFMP group traveled to Venezuela, a small South American nation situated on the Equator, to assist football alumni Andy Shedd and Jeff Wardle. While in Rubio, the group renovated three indigenous church buildings, hosted athletic clinics, taught ESL lessons, and shared personal testimonies with local children.

In 2001, the team went to Dakar, Senegal (a West African nation) to assist missionary Rod Duttweiler ('87) and others from that community. The group of 43 divided into smaller teams to tackle their projects. A group trimmed bushes and trees and dug two trenches that required the removal of three boulders. Another group made improvements at a local academy and helped facilitate a school field day. The third group joined the International Society for Development, running a softball ministry, passing out Christian literature and cassettes, and aiding in the construction of a septic field.

WFMP reached a third continent in 2002 when the team traveled to Arad, Romania, to partner with Maranata Church and the work of '57 alum Don Church. The team served a local orphanage, cleaned up three community playgrounds, and built a fourth playground for the church. In addition to physical work, the team toured the city of 150,000 with its mayor (also pastor of the Maranata Church), led worship services, and taught football to some of the youth.

In 2003, the group of 71 people was divided into two smaller groups: returning to Senegal and Romania. The Senegal team again assisted Rod and Kathy Duttweiler. The group's efforts enabled the ministries of Dakar Academy, Wycliffe Bible Translators and the International Society for Development.

The Romania team partnered with Maranata Church, to accomplish three tasks: building a playground, along with picnic tables, landscaping a city park and removing a 60-foot section of clogged sewer line and then replacing the section with new sewer lines and hot water lines.

2004 saw 87 people involved in the project that again required two destinations. The familiar trek to Romania was made, though the group was divided into two groups with one group in Timisoara and the other in the villages of Petris and Hateg. The group in Timisoara worked at completing construction of the Vox Domini Church. In Hateg, the group cleaned up the village and also led a youth meeting at the church—complete with a message, testimony and games. The Senegal group worked on various projects at the Phare, a property that provides a Bible training center, mission center, stores, and rest area for missionaries.

In 2005, the group consisted of 58 people that were divided into two groups as one returned to Timisoara, Romania and the other went to Dakar, Senegal. The group in Timisoara again teamed with Vox Domini Church. The group had two projects. The first was to revive a city park by building a playground for the local children. The second project was an outreach to University students.

Among the tasks for the group of 34 in Senegal was construction of a fence, painting, insulating a generator shed, painting lines on a basketball court, and leading chapels and devotions for youth. In addition to these projects, the group created a new partnership with the community of Ouakam and helped them to renovate an 88-year-old school building.

In 2006, the WFMP expanded into three groups, travelling to Kankan, Guinea; Timisoara, Romania and Dakar, Senegal.

The group in Guinea spent most of its time preparing and teaching four classes at the university of 4,000 students, teaching lessons on History of the United States, on sports training, and on the economics of starting a small business. They held a social gathering with the 20-25 Christian students in the town and also painted swing set frames and volleyball standards; later installing them at two church schools.

The group of 27 that traveled to Senegal helped with renovations, led chapels and devotions for area youngsters and spent time in the community of Ouakam where they assisted in construction of a new church. A group of 12 Wheaton players and two leaders once again partnered with Vox Domini church for the trip to Romania. They installed playground equipment for the church pre-school in the morning and in the afternoon they spent time at the nearby Romanian Christian University.

In 2007, the WFMP continued with three groups, returning to Timisoara, Romania and Dakar, Senegal while also taking its first trip to Malutshini, South Africa.

The 14-person group that traveled to South Africa partnered with Wheaton football alum John David Borgman ('64) and his wife Barb. The focus of their work is ministering to AIDS orphans, as they assist in running an orphanage. The group renovated an abandoned building near the local school into an area for local orphans to use.

The group that travelled to Senegal again partnered with alum Rod Duttweiler. The group worked on various projects through out their facility to help build it up and assist in his ministry of church planting and discipleship.

In Romania, the group painted the sanctuary of the church. They also went to the 45,000-student university, inviting them to events that the group used to reach out to the area youth.

In 2008, the WFMP took four trips to: Kankan, Guinea; Nouakchott, Mauritania; Loskop, South Africa and Dakar, Senegal. Three of the trips went during Wheaton's Spring Break and the Dakar trip had to be delayed to a multi-country Islamic conference that shut down the Dakar airport.

The group that travelled to South Africa worked at remodeling and upgrading an area orphanage. The Guinea group interacted with area university students, teaching classes as well as holding games of basketball, volleyball and soccer in ministering to them.

In Mauritania, they helped build the foundation for a new worship center and home. They also worked with special needs youths from the area. Members of the group also interacted with students at the local university and taught English classes. In Dakar, they built a new basketball court at the Phare conference center and did other work at the Dakar Academy.

BY JEFF PELTZ AND GARY LAVANCHY

For the 10th consecutive spring break, we partnered with former Wheaton Football players' missionaries overseas to be involved in their work and experience first hand how each continues to be obedient to God's calling in their lives and see the milestone marked in our life. In 2000, starting with Venezuela, we have travelled to Romania, Senegal, Mauritania, Botswana, Guinea, and South Africa, with over 600 players and leaders.

This year was as exciting as ever. We took 70 players, going to five different locations in Africa. Each of these areas offered unique experiences in culture, sights and smells as well as seeing God's hand in a different nation. Seeing their lives and culture with such contrast to what we are used to was an education in itself. These trip projects have a varying degree of being work related to being very relational among those we are around.

SENEGAL: This 97% Muslim country had three groups at three different locations.

Dakar Academy – This group was all about being involved in the students' lives. A school with a mix of missionary kids, Senegalese kids, and kids whose families are employed overseas, it offered a variety of opportunities to do devotionals, youth nights, carnival activities, and building a tree house on the property to hang out in.

MIV – This group travelled inland about two hours into Senegal to stay at an orphanage of 80 kids. The tangible projects they did were to landscape, plant nine trees, paint the chapel and complete a bakery. The most profound opportunity they had were the relationships they built with the kids and adults.

The Phare – We have had an eight-year involvement at this three acre Christian conference center in Dakar. From the first year there was a check list of projects. As one was completed, the chain reaction of other projects began. There is not a building or wall that has not seen a Wheaton Football player swinging a sledge hammer to demolish it or to help build it back to its intended use. This is some good ole fashion sweat equity that our players have poured into this place to become a better facility, used to house pastors, missionaries and hold conferences ... for the Glory of God.

SOUTH AFRICA – With the Drakensburg Mountains in the background, we went to work at "The Cottages", an orphanage of about 26 kids, each of whom had their parents die of AIDS. There is a great need among the Zulu nation with unemployment and living a healthy lifestyle. We had two major projects; one was building a large wooden playground set equipped with swings, slides and platforms. Up to that point all they had was a tire swing and small metal monkey bars. We also helped install a 6' fence around a five acre orphanage, placing poles in concrete, pounding others, equaling about 700 yds. in length. As the kids would come back from school by 3pm, then it became a draw between playing and working. We also won our second "World Cup" soccer match between the teachers (who always play soccer) and the U.S. (us who always play football).

BOTSWANA – This is the first time we visited this country and to partner with players from Wabash College. Each day the group of guys would take day trips to area villages to play soccer, do mini sport camps, and then read Bible stories to the group of young athletes. At times they would also tell the stories through skits they put together. A few of the groups had the privilege to visit local prisons and minister through sports, story and song to the men. One amazing event happened in Sahitwa. Kids came from miles around to see our American athletes. It was a rainy day so they had to do the sports activities inside. After the sports, they all memorized Genesis 1 together. What a great event to be a part of.

WHEATON FOOTBALL AND THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

There have been 17 Wheaton football players to sign professional football contracts since 1979. Two of those signings came in back-to-back seasons in 2008 and 2009.

On April 27, 2008 the Philadelphia Eagles selected Wheaton defensive end Andy Studebaker with the 37th pick of the sixth round in the 2008 NFL Draft. With his selection, Studebaker became the first player from Wheaton taken in the NFL draft during the draft's modern era and the first Wheaton player drafted since the 1960's.

Following the conclusion of the 2009 NFL Draft, Wheaton cornerback Pete Ittersagen was signed as an undrafted free agent by the Jacksonville Jaguars on April 26, 2009.

Following a strong 2008 training camp with the Eagles, Studebaker was signed to Philadelphia's practice squad where he trained and learned the Eagles' system. On November 17, 2008, Studebaker was signed off the Eagles' practice squad by the Kansas City Chiefs. He played in Kansas City's final six games of the year, making five total tackles.

After a strong off-season with the Chiefs, Studebaker entered Kansas City's training camp and early into the camp was listed second on the team's depth chart at outside linebacker.

Studebaker earned his Bachelor's Degree in Applied Health Science from Wheaton in May 2008. In four seasons as a defensive end for the Thunder, Studebaker tallied 111 total tackles, with 50-1/2 tackles for lost yardage (-292 yards), including 30 quarterback sacks. He played in five games as a senior in 2007, before his campaign was cut short by a foot injury. In those five games, the unanimous preseason All-American made 12 tackles, with 6-1/2 tackles for lost yardage (-52 yards), including five quarterback sacks (-45 yards).

As a junior in 2006, Studebaker was selected as the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) Defensive Player of the Year and was tabbed as a First Team All-American and the North Region Defensive Player of the Year by D3Football.com. He also earned Second Team All-American honors on the 2006 AP Little All-American team and was a Football Gazette Division III All-American. In that junior campaign he led the CCIW with 17-1/2 (-142 yards) quarterback sacks and was also the league leader in tackles for lost yardage with 25-1/2 (-161 yards). His 17-1/2 sacks tied the school record for sacks in a single season, and were the most of any player at any NCAA level in 2006.

Ittersagen joined the Jaguars shortly after his signing and had a strong 2009 training camp as a defensive back and particularly on special teams.

Ittersagen, a three-time All-American for the Thunder, graduated from Wheaton in December of 2008 with a degree in Business and Economics. A three-time All-American, Ittersagen was been a standout at both cornerback and return specialist. His 60 career passes defended, is fifth all-time in Division III history in the category. Ittersagen's five career punt returns for a touchdown established a new school record and his nine career touchdown returns (five punt, three interception and one kick) also set a Wheaton College record. He is the program's all-time leader in punt return yardage with 65 punts returns for 1,075 yards (16.5 YPR). The four-time All-Conference selection at cornerback recorded 252 career tackles, with 189 solo stops.

In 2008, Ittersagen concluded his brilliant Wheaton career as a unanimous Division III All-American with a selection to the Associated Press' "Little All-American Team", as a First Team honoree. He was also recognized as a First Team Division III All-American by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) for the second-consecutive year and was named a First Team All-American at cornerback and a Second Team pick as a kick returner by D3football.com. He was named the North Region "Defensive Player of the Year" by D3football.com. He returned 25 punts for a school record 464 yards this season, averaging 18.6 yards per return, with two returned for a touchdown. He finished the season ranked second in Division III in yards per punt return. Ittersagen helped lead Wheaton to its first-ever NCAA Division III Playoff Semifinal appearance with three touchdown returns in the team's four postseason games.

McCULLY STADIUM

HOME OF THUNDER FOOTBALL

McCully Stadium is the longtime home of Wheaton football and track and field. Previously known as New Lawson Field, the field was renamed McCully Field in 1956, when a concrete grandstand with a seating capacity of 4,100 was added. The facility became known as McCully Stadium in 2006 to reflect the addition of lights, a new playing surface for football and a newly re-surfaced synthetic track around the playing field. Wheaton has compiled a record of 44-5 since 2000 at McCully Stadium, including 24 consecutive victories from October 6, 2001 to November 12, 2005.

In 2004 McCully Stadium received a new playing surface, as state-of-the-art artificial grass from FieldTurf was installed. In the fall of 2005 lights were added to further improve the facility for games and practices and the track around the playing field was also resurfaced at that time. In 2007, a state-of-the-art high definition video scoreboard was added to the west end of the stadium. The stadium provides seating for approximately 4,000 fans. A concession area, restrooms and team meeting rooms are located under the grandstand.

Crowning the home grandstand is a pressbox facility. The facility includes two radio booths and seating for media, statisticians and other support staff. Coaches and video personnel from each team can witness the game from the privacy of enclosed booths, located on each side of the pressbox.

The stadium was named in honor of former Wheaton gridder Ed McCully as a tribute to his extraordinary bravery in sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ. McCully was a former Wheaton football player and 1949 graduate of Wheaton College. Ed McCully and Jim Elliot served as missionaries to the fierce Auca Indians in the jungles of Ecuador. On January 3, 1956, these men landed their plane on a narrow strip of beach near the Auca territory. After building a tree house and establishing two-way radio contact with their wives, they had a brief encounter with the Auca Indian tribe. Two days later the team was found speared to death by this tribe on the beach not far from where they had landed. By the grace of God the story did not end there. Their wives continued the work their husbands had started and eventually led this same South American tribe to Christ.
